Gout Education Society Statement on Coronavirus

As the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) news continues to evolve all around the world, the Gout Education Society (GES) recognizes this healthcare pandemic and how it is affecting the population. GES would like to reinforce the importance of the health and safety of patients, caregivers, medical professionals and the entire community around the world. In times like these, we urge you to listen to the latest recommendations, such as social distancing and self-quarantining, as per the CDC or the WHO. You can follow both of these sites for the latest information and how to protect yourself from the coronavirus.

While we remain vigilant in monitoring the latest COVID-19 updates, we would like to remind you that, should you need them, all of the GES resources can be downloaded free of charge. If you are located in the U.S. and still require a shipment of materials, you may request a delivery through our website, but understand we will be unable to fulfill orders for the time being.

Our thoughts are with anyone who has been impacted by COVID-19 and we hope that everyone is keeping safe and healthy during this health crisis.
